

The Internationalisation of Higher Education

Towards a new research agenda in critical higher education studies

Edited by Eva Hartmann

Contents

Notes on Contributors	vii
1. Introduction: The new research agenda in critical higher education studies Eva Hartmann	1
2. The structure and silence of the cognotariat Christopher Newfield	7
3. Corporatisation, competitiveness, commercialisation: new logics in the globalising of UK higher education Susan L. Robertson	23
4. Current internationalisation: the case of France Annie Vinokur	37
5. Brazilian higher education from a post-colonial perspective Denise Leite	51
6. Soft power and higher education: an examination of China's Confucius Institutes Rui Yang	65
7. The Bologna Process as a hegemonic tool of Normative Power Europe (NPE): the case of Chilean and Mexican higher education Francis Espinoza Figueroa	77
8. The selectivity of translation: accountability regimes in Chilean and South African higher education Barbara Junge (formerly Dickhaus)	87
9. Re-orienting internationalisation in African higher education Mala Singh	99
10. Small world: access to higher education between methodological nationalism and international organisations Gaële Goastellec	113
11. Singapore: bridgehead of the West or counterforce? The s[t]imulation of creative and critical thought in Singapore's higher education policies Ingrid Hoofd	125

CONTENTS

12. The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation: pawn or global player? Eva Hartmann	135
Index	147