

Elizabeth Stigger · Marian Wang
David Laurence · Anna Bordilovskaya

Internationalization within Higher Education

Perspectives from Japan

 Springer

Contents

1 Introduction: Internationalization in Higher Education . . . . .	1
Elizabeth Stigger
1.1 Introduction . . . . .	1
1.2 Internationalization of Higher Education . . . . .	3
1.2.1 Competition Within Higher Education . . . . .	4
1.2.2 Rankings . . . . .	6
1.3 Influences on Incorporating Internationalization Strategies: The Japanese Context . . . . .	7
1.3.1 Historical Influences on Prestige . . . . .	7
1.3.2 The Role of English in Japanese Education . . . . .	9
1.3.3 Hierarchical Influences on Change Within Japanese Higher Education . . . . .	10
1.4 Instituting Internationalization: The Need for Bottom-Up Change . . . . .	11
1.4.1 An Under Represented Element in the Internationalization of Japanese Higher Education . . . . .	13
1.5 Chapter Overview . . . . .	15
References . . . . .	16
2 Trends in Access to Higher Education in Japan: One Institution's     Responses . . . . .	21
David Laurence
2.1 Introduction: Demographic Trends . . . . .	21
2.2 The Literature . . . . .	23
2.2.1 Martin Trow: Elite to Mass to Universal Access . . . . .	23
2.2.2 Higher Education in the World of Universal Access . . . . .	25
2.2.3 Internationalization and the Low-Prestige University in Japan . . . . .	27

2.3	Institutional Response to Pressures from Increased Access: The Case of One Japanese University . . . . .	28
2.3.1	Competition . . . . .	29
2.3.2	Retention . . . . .	31
2.4	The Role of Leadership . . . . .	32
2.5	Incorporating Change from the Bottom-Up . . . . .	33
2.6	Discussion: Faculty Culture and the Job of Teaching . . . . .	34
	References . . . . .	35
3	Contextualizing Internationalization in Higher Education: Study Abroad Programs for Global Human Resource Development . . . . .	37
	Marian Wang
3.1	Introduction . . . . .	37
3.2	Study Abroad Research . . . . .	40
3.2.1	General Trends of Study Abroad Programs . . . . .	40
3.3	United States Examples of Study Abroad Programs for Horizontal Mobility . . . . .	41
3.4	European Union Examples of Study Abroad Programs for Horizontal Mobility . . . . .	42
3.5	Japanese Examples of Study Abroad Programs for Horizontal Mobility . . . . .	44
3.6	A Case Study of Study Abroad Program Design and Creating Global Human Resources . . . . .	45
3.6.1	Embedding Critical Thinking into Study Abroad Courses . . . . .	46
3.6.2	Home Country Program Preparation: Preparative Courses . . . . .	47
3.6.3	Host Country Program Considerations . . . . .	48
3.6.4	Home Country Program Reflection: Reflective Courses . . . . .	50
3.7	Discussion: Bridging Global Issues Concerning Study Abroad with the Local Reality of Raising Global Human Resources . . . . .	51
	References . . . . .	53
4	Internationalization of Higher Education in the Foreign Language Curriculum in Japan: A Teacher's Perspective on Compulsory English Discussion Course . . . . .	57
	Anna Bordilovskaya
4.1	Introduction . . . . .	57
4.2	English Education in Japan: Background . . . . .	59
4.2.1	Communication Skills and English Discussion: Cultural and Noncultural . . . . .	60
4.2.2	Critical Thinking and English Education in Japan . . . . .	62

4.3	Examples of Integrating Communication Skills and Critical Thinking into English Courses . . . . .	63
4.4	The Top Global University Project and Attempts of Improving English Education . . . . .	64
4.4.1	An Overview of English Discussion Course . . . . .	66
4.5	The Unique Characteristics of EDC . . . . .	67
4.6	Discussion: Challenges of EDC for Japanese Students . . . . .	70
	References . . . . .	73
5	On the Road to Achieving Communicative Abilities: Contextualizing Communicative Language Learning . . . . .	77
	Elizabeth Stigger
5.1	Introduction . . . . .	77
5.2	Situation: Foreign Language Learning in Asia and Japan . . . . .	78
5.2.1	The Force of Past Learning Experiences . . . . .	80
5.2.2	Considering the Present . . . . .	81
5.2.3	The Missing Element in Communicative Pedagogy . . . . .	82
5.3	About Visual Thinking Strategies . . . . .	83
5.3.1	Using Art as a Learning Tool . . . . .	83
5.4	Integrating Visual Thinking Skills into the Classroom Under the Ideals of Internationalizing Pedagogy . . . . .	85
5.4.1	Using Visual Thinking Strategies in the Classroom . . . . .	85
5.4.2	Student's Opinions of Visual Thinking Skills . . . . .	88
5.5	Discussion: Points to Consider in Incorporating VTS . . . . .	90
	References . . . . .	93
6	Considering the Implications of Internationalization Within Japanese Higher Education . . . . .	97
	Elizabeth Stigger
6.1	Limitations to Educational Change . . . . .	97
6.2	The Incorporation of an Internationalization Project Within Higher Education . . . . .	99
6.3	Changes in Response to the Development of Internationalization Projects . . . . .	100
6.4	Implications: The Importance of Bottom-Up Change . . . . .	103
	References . . . . .	106