

Excellence, Innovation and Ingenuity in Honors Education

Edited by

Graeme Harper

Cambridge
Scholars
Publishing

CONTENTS

Foreword	vii
Chapter One	1
An Opening Note on Ingenuity
Graeme Harper
Chapter Two	9
The Role of Interdisciplinary Teaching in the Honors Curriculum: Insight from a Public Liberal Arts University
Heather N. Tinsley, Andrea Eckelman, Erin Chandler and Cathlena Martin
Chapter Three	23
Innovative Approaches: Accessible Academic Excellence in George Mason University’s Honors College
Eva Bramesco, Kareema Smith and Kevin Stoy
Chapter Four	35
Crossing the Line in Honors Education
Sandy Feinstein
Chapter Five	47
Incremental Innovation
J.D. Bowers
Chapter Six	57
Joint Honors Adventures and Community Service Partnerships
Helen Fallon and Kathryn Macdonald
Chapter Seven	69
The Service Symposium: Toward a Holistic Education
Christine Masters and Jon Tuttle

Chapter Eight	79
Innovation and Inclusion – Applying Design Thinking and Lean Startup in the Honors Context Lorelle A. Meadows, Mary Raber and Laura Kasson Fiss
Chapter Nine	99
International Epidemics: Public Health as a Cornerstone of Innovation Honors Education Rajini Srikath and Louise Penner
Chapter Ten	115
Enhanced Student Leadership in Honors: A Case Study Brian Railsback
Chapter Eleven	129
Critical Global Citizenship Education: An Honors Seminar Model for High Impact Study Abroad and Intercultural Bridges of Understanding Melinda Yeomans
Chapter Twelve	147
Leading for Change in Honors Education Jaclyn M. Chancey, Leigh E. Fine and Jennifer Lease Butts
Contributors	163
Index	169