

LIVED EXPERIENCES OF ABLEISM IN ACADEMIA

Strategies for Inclusion in Higher Education

Edited by Nicole Brown

Contents

List of figures and tables	viii
Notes on contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xvii
Introduction: Being 'different' in academia Nicole Brown	1
PART I Ways of knowing	15
1 A leg to stand on: irony, autoethnography and ableism in the academy Laura L. Ellingson	17
2 "There's no place for emotions in academia": experiences of the neoliberal academy as a disabled scholar Angharad Butler-Rees	37
3 Embodiment and authenticity: how embodied research might shed light on experiences of disability and chronic illness Jennifer Leigh	53
4 What's in a word? Rephrasing and reframing disability Sharon Smith	73
Intermezzo	91
PART II Lived experiences	93
5 Colour blindness in academia: the challenges of an invisible impairment Oliver Daddow	95

6	Stammering in academia: voice in the management of self and others Robert H. Mann and Bryan C. Clift	111
7	Losing my voice (physically and metaphorically) Jeanne Barczewska	127
8	Deafness and hearing loss in higher education Nicole Brown	141
9	Living with collagenous colitis as a busy academic: chronic illness and the intersection of age and gender inequality Rosalind Janssen	159
10	Three cheers for Access to Work partnership: two cheers for Two Ticks and one question about a university-wide self-disclosure scheme Chris Mounsey and Stan Booth	171
11	"I'm not saying this to be petty": reflections on making disability visible while teaching Emma Sheppard	185
12	#AutisticsInAcademia Chloe Farahar and Annette Foster	197
13	"I've always wanted to be a nurse ...": challenging academic ableist assumptions Jo Sullivan	217
14	Ableism in music academicism Ben Lunn	237
15	Teaching with and supporting teachers with dyslexia in higher education Jennifer Hiscock and Jennifer Leigh	249
16	Depressed academics: building a group blog community Mikael Vejdemo-Johansson and Ian P. Gent	265

Contents

17	Cancer, bereavement and work Nicola Martin	283
18	Invisible disabilities and (re)negotiating identity: life after major traumatic injury Clare Lewis	301
	Conclusion: Disability imaginary of the future Nicole Brown	315
	Index	323