Teaching and Learning in Higher Education: The Context of Being, Interculturality and New Knowledge Systems

EDITED BY

MARGARET KUMAR

The University of Melbourne, Australia

AND

THUSHARI WELIKALA

St George's, University of London, UK

United Kingdom – North America – Japan – India – Malaysia – China

Contents

List of Contributors xi

About the Contributors xiii

Foreword by Joseph Lo Bianco xxi

Introduction: Unravelling
Margaret Kumar and Thushari Welikala 1

Part I Being

Chapter 1 Theorising the Concept of Being in Indigenous Knowledge Systems: The Changing Face of Research Relationships
Margaret Kumar 25

Chapter 2 Being, Relationality and Ethical Know-How in Indigenous Research
Estelle Barrett 41

Chapter 3 Connection and Disconnection: My Personal Story to Being Devena Monro 53

Chapter 4 Conceptualising Teaching Spaces: The Intersection of Being, Belonging, and Becoming Jennifer Valcke, Raman Preet, Michael Knipper and Karin Båge 65

Chapter 5 Constructing Difficult Knowledge and Self: Teaching Literary Texts in Kenya
Kiprono Langat 79

Part II Being and Interculturality

Chapter 6 Modes of Being Across and Between Cultures: Opportunities for Understanding the Pluriverse
Jacques Boulet 95

Chapter 7 Self-cultivation and Self-awareness: Chinese Gen Z Studying in Australia
Fengqi Qian and Guo-qiang Liu 109

Chapter 8 Sociocultural Plurality in Sri Lanka: Interculturality and New Knowledge Systems
Shihan de Silva Jayasuriya 123

Chapter 9 Diverse Pedagogical Positioning in Plurilingual Higher Education: Affordances of Intercultural Being
Mahtab Jafipada 133

Chapter 10 Being in Pain: Using Images and Participatory Methods to Explore Intercultural Understanding of Pain
Deborah Padfield and Mary Wickenden 145

Chapter 11 Be-longing in Higher Education: Interculturality as Process and Outcome
Jeanine Gregersen-Hermans 159

Chapter 12 Self, Other and Interculturality: An Epistemic Shift Towards Intersensoriality
Thushari Welikala 171

Part III Being, Interculturality and New Knowledge Systems

Chapter 13 Recovering Unrecognised DeCentred Experience
Adrian Holliday 185

Chapter 14 Inside Out? Individual Agency and Professional Identity in the Era of Internationalisation in Higher Education
Kevin Haines and Joram Tarusarira 197

Chapter 15 Positive Outcomes in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Higher Education and the Visual Arts
Jennifer Murray-Jones 209

Chapter 16 Adopting Ubuntu in Teaching Social Work
Ndungi wa Mungai 223

Chapter 17 Gandhi, Value Creation, and Global Education: Intercultural Perspectives on Education for Citizenship
Namrata Sharma 237

Chapter 18 Reclaiming the Future?
Sheila Trahar 249

Chapter 19 COVID-19, The Crossing of Borders, New Knowledge Systems and Their Relationship to Higher Education Systems
Margaret Kumar 261

Chapter 20 Many Cultures or None? Sighting and Assessing a Post-cultural Pedagogical Paradigm
Thushari Welikala and Ronald Barnett 275

Concluding Remarks
Thushari Welikala and Margaret Kumar 291

Index 299