

Reimagining Historically Black Colleges and Universities: Survival Beyond 2021

EDITED BY

GARY B. CROSBY

Alabama A&M University, USA

KHALID A. WHITE

San Jose City College, USA

MARCUS A. CHANAY

Lincoln University of Missouri, USA

And

ADRIEL A. HILTON

Southern University at New Orleans, USA

United Kingdom – North America – Japan – India – Malaysia – China

Table of Contents

Foreword	xi
Chapter 1 An Anchored Look Forward Gary B. Crosby	1
Chapter 2 The History of HBCUs: Lessons on Innovation from the Past Evan Wade	5
Chapter 3 Don't Believe the Hype: HBCUs and MSIs Are Still Necessary to Black Political and Socioeconomic Development and Advancement Lessie Branch	15
Chapter 4 HBCUs in a New Decade: A Look at 2010 to 2020 and Beyond Ernest C. Evans, Brandon D. Brown and Karen Bussey	29
Chapter 5 HBCUs: The Foundation and Future of Social Justice, Leadership, and Leadership Development Dawn Y. Matthews and Tamara Bertrand Jones	41
Chapter 6 Using THRIVE as a Framework for Creating HBCU Success Stories Rihana S. Mason, Curtis D. Byrd and Lycurgus Muldrow	53
Chapter 7 Philanthropy versus Fundraising – An Imperative for HBCUs Reshunda L. Mahone	71

Chapter 8 Financial Issues for HBCUs in 2020 and Beyond Yoruba T. Mutakabbir and Christopher Parker	79
Chapter 9 Sharpening a Competitive Edge: How HBCUs Leverage Their Strengths with Strategic Partnerships Tamara Zellars Buck and Pam Parry	89
Chapter 10 Adaptive Survival Strategies: A Case Study Analysis of Four Historically Black Colleges and Universities Elgloria Harrison and Morris Thomas	97
Chapter 11 Answering the Call: The Role of HBCUs in Engaging Black Women’s Identity Politics Megan Covington and Nadrea R. Njoku	109
Chapter 12 Current Trends, Future Directions: Promoting the Long-Term Survival and Success of HBCUs P. Jesse Rine, Adriel A. Hilton and Jeremy C. McCool	121
Chapter 13 Democracy Matters in the 21st Century HBCU Writing Classroom: AfriWomanism as a Political, Pedagogical Tool Kendra N. Bryant	135
Chapter 14 The Category Is...Transformational Inclusion: A Conceptual Framework for (Re)imagining the Inclusion of Black Queer and Trans* Students Attending HBCUs Jarrel T. Johnson	149
Chapter 15 The Usage of Personal Power When Collaborating with Black Male Scholars at a Historically Black College and University Daniel F. Upchurch	161
Chapter 16 The Reasons for Reimagining Khalid A. White	173

Epilogue Marybeth Gasman	177
About the Editors	181
About the Contributors	185
Index	197